Radiate: Art of the South Asian Diaspora

Curated by Kathryn Myers

November 2–December 15, 2012

Reception: Friday, November 2, 2012, 5–8pm

Artists: Amina Ahmed, Shelly Bahl, Siona Benjamin, Sonia Chaudhary, Neil Chowdhury, Anjali Deshmukh, Vijay Kumar, Annu Palakunnathu Matthew, Samanta Batra Mehta, Ebenezer Sunder Singh, and Tenzin Wangchuk

Radiate: Art of the South Asian Diaspora presents the work of eleven artists currently reside in the Northeast United States and share origins and connections in South Asia. The diversity of meaning, metaphor, and material in their work defies attempts at locating any fixed geographic or cultural “essence” of identity among these artists. Rather, multiple and mutable senses of self and history are expressed through concepts and forms that weave an abundant labyrinth of associations.

Events: Panel discussion: Shelly Bahl, Siona Benjamin, Pradosh Mishra, and Kathryn Myers
Thursday, November 1, 6pm

Video presentation: Regarding India, Conversations With Contemporary Artists by Kathryn Myers
Friday, November 2, 12pm

Film and Video Screening: Translations, curated by Mathew Paul Jinks and Megha Ralapati
Wednesday, November 28, 7pm

Radiate: Art of the South Asian Diaspora is supported by the College of Architecture and the Arts, University of Illinois at Chicago and a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, as well as the Asian American Studies Institute at the University of Connecticut; the India Studies program at the University of Connecticut; and the Maximilian E. and Marion O. Hoffman Foundation.
